

RECREATION PROGRAM

On a space availability basis, children who are not enrolled at the Washington School for the Deaf may participate in the recreation program at the Washington School for the Deaf. To the extent non-enrolled children reflect a wide cross-section of the local community, these recreational opportunities will promote incidental learning in the least restrictive environment, in accordance with the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act.

In order for a non-enrolled child to participate in the recreation program at the Washington School for the Deaf, the parent(s), guardian(s), or adult student must read and sign an Assumption of Risk. Additionally, admissions forms designed to identify children who may pose a risk to the health, safety, or welfare of other children must be submitted prior to participation. Participation is on a “space available basis” and only available to children who have sign-communication skills and are not enrolled at the Washington School for the Deaf. Participation is not available to children who require additional supervision or who may pose a risk to the health, safety, or welfare.

Initial participation for any non-enrolled child does not create a continuing right to participation. Participation in the recreation program may be ceased at any time at the discretion of the Washington School for the Deaf.
